Geospace Announces Sales Collaboration with Absolute Imaging

Geospace Technologies Corporation has entered into a sales collaboration agreement with Absolute Imaging International (India) Pvt. Ltd., a subsidiary of Absolute Imaging Inc. This collaboration will facilitate discussions with potential clients while promoting sales of Geospace products and services in the Indian market.

As a sales partner, Absolute Imaging will represent the Geospace product line of land-based seismic sensing equipment used in the Energy & Mining industries. Absolute Imaging will focus on projects, tenders and solicitation for opportunities exclusively in India. These products include the company's line of wireless seismic data acquisition systems which offer continuous, cable-free autonomous data recording.

Founded in 2007, Absolute Imaging is an international provider with a full suite of geotechnical services in multiple geographical locations. More information can be found at www.absoluteimaging.ca.
